White Plains & Central Westchester

Executive Director & CEO

As we like to say, “We’re not new to it, but we are true to it.”

ABOUT THE ORGANIZATION

For more than 90 years, the YWCA White Plains & Central Westchester (YWCA WPCW) has been a recognized model for social change in the community through its services, advocacy, education, and training programs. Our vision is a world where racism does not exist, where every woman, especially those of color, can fulfill her potential, and where the voices of women are heard and respected.

The mission of the YWCA WPCW is to eliminate racism, empower women, stand up for social justice, help families, strengthen communities, and promote peace, justice freedom and dignity for all. Through our Women’s Hall of Fame and our signature In the Company of Women event, we identify, celebrate, and learn from strong women. Through our Westchester Center for Racial Equity, launched in April of 2021, we strive to nurture and amplify the movement to build a better, more equitable world.

A passionate advocate for our mission, the YWCA WPCW supports extensive programming serving more than 4,000 people each week. Some highlights include:

- Providing supportive housing for 193 low-income women at our Residence facility which is the largest supportive housing complex in the state of New York.
- Cultivating girls to be leaders through our Youth leadership programs.
- Educating children for brighter futures through our childcare center, nursery school, after school, and summer camp programs.
- Standing up against racism as evidenced by workshops, trainings, and collaborations with community partners:
- Putting health and wellness and competitive sports within reach of the underserved through our gymnastics and aquatics programs.
